Antje has over 10 years management experience in line and HR functions and is an accomplished consultant since 12 years. She is specialized in executive and team coaching, as well as organizational development.

Antje has a passion for accompanying individuals, teams and organizations through change situations. By downloading patterns of the past and connecting them proactively to the energy of the individual and organizational resources she takes the clients on the journey to their personal visions, strategies in order to develop solution oriented action plans.

Her coaching and consulting style is based on a partnership relation and very supportive, but it is not an easy chat. She encourages, confronts and challenges potential.

Antje enjoys seeing people and organizations grow.
